EARLY REPORT TO NATION ON WAR POSSIBLE

President Said to be Preparing Talk in Which He Will Outline Belt Tightening Program

DECISION ON TIME

Washington, Aug. 29—(P)—White House official said today President Truman is preparing a report to the nation. The report, this official said, could cover international affairs, the fighting in Korea and the controls the president feels are needed at home. This official, who asked not to be quoted by name, said no time has been set for the speech. But he said it would be in the nature of a "fireside chat"—such as President Roosevelt used to make—and would be televised and broadcast.

White House sources, who could not be named, previously had said the talk might be ready by this weekend. It would be Mr. Truman's first report to the nation since his July 19 radio address calling for a partial mobilization program to deal with the Korean fighting. These officials said no definite time had been set. One reason reported to be that Congress has not yet acted upon the president's request for legislation which would enable him to impose limited controls on the domestic economy. A senate-house committee today tackled down to the task of compromising a dispute over how much leeway to give the president over wage and price controls. Conferees agreed in advance to keep at the job until midnight if necessary in an effort to break a deadlock and speed anti-inflation legislation to the White House. Senator Maybank (D.-S.C.), chairman of the Senate Banking Committee who heads the senate conferees, was ready with a compromise he hoped would prove acceptable. It would require senate and house approval. Senator Ives (R.-N.Y.), whose appointment to the conference committee yesterday puts him in a key spot, also told reporters he may offer a plan to resolve the dispute. Ives said he hoped "a reasonable, workable compromise," better than the provisions in either of the separate home-front mobilization bills passed by the senate or the house, would be forthcoming. The crux of the matter is this: In giving the president standby power to impose price and wage controls, should Congress let him (Turn to Page Six)

THREE-WAY PROBE IN RIVER TRAGEDY IS ON

Pittsburgh, Aug. 29—(P)—A three-way investigation is under way today into the river tragedy which cost the life of State Police Detective Sergeant Glen Adams. The coroner's office, state police and the coast guard are taking part in the probe. Adams and two girls fell off a speedboat during a ride near the Cheswick dam Sunday. The girls were rescued but Adams drowned. Funeral services for Adams, a veteran of 21 years on the state police force, will be held in Greensburg tomorrow.

Naval Recruit From Jamestown, N. Y., Found Shot to Death at Lake Bluff, Ill.

Lake Bluff, Ill., Aug. 29—(P)—A naval recruit from the Great Lakes Naval Training Station was found shot to death yesterday in a bedroom of a Lake Bluff residence.

Presidential "Gag" Order Is Pounded Upon By Republicans As Issue for Coming Campaign

Washington, Aug. 29—(P)—Republicans hoisted as a congressional campaign issue today what they called a presidential "gag" order against Gen. Douglas MacArthur's views on Formosa.

Accepting this as inevitable, Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, told reporters that while he thinks MacArthur is doing "a wonderful job" as the Pacific military commander "it is my understanding that the president is the commander-in-chief and makes the policies."

While congressional reaction generally followed party lines, some Democrats backed MacArthur and at least one Republican supported Mr. Truman.

The president cancelled a MacArthur message to a Chicago veterans meeting—obviously because the general's views could be interpreted as calling for permanent American defense of the island, now in the hands of the Chinese Nationalists.

This went beyond the administration policy to neutralize the island from Communist attack during the Korean fighting and to leave its eventual disposition to international action, probably through the United Nations.

The MacArthur statement, which has been widely distributed in advance of its scheduled and then cancelled reading at Chicago yesterday, soon became public.

In it, the general said that war is inevitable if Formosa falls into unfriendly hands.

It was obvious that the White House viewed the incident with considerable concern. Newsmen there were briefed for nearly an hour on the sequence of events and on U. S. policy toward Formosa.

A top White House official who asked that he not be named said the affair would at least prevent any recurrence of such public airings of divergent views.

Hurricane Moving Slowly Toward the Mississippi Coast

New Orleans, Aug. 29—(P)—A small, poorly defined tropical hurricane moved slowly toward the Louisiana-Mississippi coast today from a point in the Gulf of Mexico 490 miles south-southeast of New Orleans.

The weather bureau said the storm would inch toward New Orleans until about 10:30 a. m. (EST) but it could not forecast what path it would follow after that. If the hurricane continues its present course, the bureau said, it could not reach the city before early Thursday morning even if it picked up speed.

The weather bureau said the pre-dawn movement of the storm today was so vague and indefinite it could hardly be called a course.

Forward movement of the storm was reported very slow from a position 340 miles west of Havana and about 100 miles north of the Yucatan peninsula.

Winds up to 85 miles an hour extended outward about 70 miles (Turn to Page Six)

Top Officers of Pennsylvania's 28th Division Study Question of Deferments

Harrisburg, Aug. 29—(P)—The question of deferments for men with needed civilian skills was an issue before top-ranking officers of Pennsylvania's 28th Infantry Division today.

Deferments were discussed at a meeting of top division officers here last night, but the results were not made public immediately.

Among those applying to leave the war-bound National Guard Division were reported to be a number of public employees regarded as "indispensable" by their employers.

A guard officer said, however, that while some men have specialized civilian training that may be difficult to replace, this training can be of use to the army also.

In addition, it was pointed out that the commander of the division, Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, holds a top-flight civilian position as the commonwealth's lieutenant-governor.

"If the lieutenant-governor can go to war," one division officer said, "no other public employee can hardly expect deferment by reason of his job."

The conferees pointed out that some sort of deferment system would have to be worked out soon, if there is to be one, since the division leaves for Camp Atterbury, Ind., and active federal service, next week.

Normal draft deferment rules do not apply to the Guard, since all enlistments were frozen for the duration when the division was alerted for active service. Pennsylvania's first National Guard unit to depart for army service left Indian town Gap last night as the 709th Anti-Aircraft Artillery Gun Battalion.

The Philadelphia unit entrained for Fort Bliss, Texas, where it is due on Thursday

RUSSIA OPENS CAMPAIGN ON AGGRESSION

Lake Success, Aug. 29—(P)—Russia opens a new propaganda campaign before the Security Council today, charging American aggression against Communist China in Formosa.

Russian Delegate Jakob A. Malik, council president until the end of the month, notified other delegates he would fight to put such charges on the agenda for today's council meeting. Even if he loses his fight, he still has the chance to make another long speech attacking the U. S.

The U. S. already has said that Communist China's charged last week of U. S. aggression in Formosa are "ridiculous falsehoods" and that the Americans are ready for an on-the-spot inquiry immediately. But while welcoming the inquiry on Formosa, the U. S. still maintains that the Council must take up her own charges of Communist aggression in Korea.

On the Soviet side Malik, since taking the Council presidency at the beginning of August, has opposed the U. S. resolution to localize the Korean war and simultaneously has charged the U. S. with aggression in Korea.

Although the U. S. was not expected to oppose Malik's attempt to bring Formosa into his propaganda blasts, other Council members were reported ready to combat putting this on the order of business. They insist on clearing up the Korean question which Malik has blocked.

The Chinese Communists have complained to the U. N. that the U. S. Seventh Fleet, acting under orders of President Truman to protect the approaches to Formosa, is intervening in China. They claim Formosa is territorially a part of Communist China.

Malik has made no reference, however, to a new complaint by Red China's foreign minister Chou En-Lai that U. S. planes have bombed Chinese mainland areas. Nor has he referred to news accounts of Chinese Communist charges that British warships have violated Chinese territorial waters near Hong Kong.

With strong bipartisan backing, a bill to crack down on Communists and subversives in this country came up for house debate today. Prospects were it might pass by tonight.

Like several companion bills which the senate is scheduled to take up shortly, the legislation goes beyond recommendations President Truman made for dealing with any internal threat to the nation's security.

It was drafted after lengthy hearings by the house un-American activities committee. In a statement accompanying the bill to the floor, the committee declared its investigations over a ten-year period had established:

1. That the Communist movement in this country is controlled from abroad; 2. that its ultimate objective is to overthrow free American institutions in favor of a Communist totalitarian dictatorship; 3. that it works by secret conspiratorial methods; and 4. that its activities constitute an immediate and powerful threat to U. S. security.

Primarily a registration bill, it (Turn to Page Six)

Measure to Curb Subversives Up For House Debate

Policy Statement Is Sent MacArthur By Pres. Truman

Washington, Aug. 29—(P)—President Truman today sent Gen. Douglas MacArthur a statement of American policy on Formosa, and also a commendation of the general's direction of the Korean campaign.

Mr. Truman's move, following up his week end order for MacArthur to withdraw a statement on Formosa, appeared to have a two-fold purpose although there was no official comment.

1. To clarify MacArthur's own understanding of the whole situation and give him an implied reminder not to get out of step (Turn to Page Six)

No-Strike Pledge Shunned by Lewis

Washington, Aug. 29—(P)—John L. Lewis advised AFL President William Green today that his coal miners won't be bound by any AFL-inspired no-strike pledge.

The government has not asked labor groups to forego strikes during the Korean fighting and defense building period ahead, but Green and some top CIO officers have indicated that such a pledge would be given if it was asked.

The United Mine Workers made public a sarcastically worded memorandum from Lewis to Green.

Lewis said the newspapers reported Green "as plodding about the country seeking someone to whom you can give a 'no strike pledge.'"

It will be good news to residents of the community to learn that

ISLAND OF CONTROVERSY—Strategic Formosa, described by General MacArthur as "an unsinkable aircraft carrier and submarine tender" lying squarely athwart the U. S. defense line based on Okinawa, the Philippines and Japan, is the subject of a policy rift between the general and the Administration. In a prepared statement, which President Truman ordered withdrawn but which GOP representatives entered in the Congressional Record, MacArthur described Formosa as a vital link in an island chain from which we can "dominate with air power every Asiatic port from Vladivostok (1) to Singapore (2)." The island must be kept out of Red hands, he said.

Training and Recreational Facilities At Camp Atterbury Are Reported Excellent

Camp Atterbury, Ind., Aug. 29—(P)—Pennsylvania's National Guard will follow such scrapping World War Two outfits as the 83rd, 30th and 106th when it enters federal service at Camp Atterbury the middle of next month.

And like the World War Two soldiers, the Keystone State's 28th Infantry Division will find Atterbury's sprawling 40,000 acres a subject for delight and regret.

Training and recreation facilities are excellent in the camp proper. It is a city built to house 50,000, with more than 1,800 buildings, five theaters, 21 post exchanges, three guest houses, three enlisted men's service clubs, 12 chapels and a huge sports arena. They will be reopened as needed.

It has the hospital facilities of Wakeman General Hospital, famed for plastic surgery before it was inactivated. It has an enormous laundry and all the utilities that go with a city of 50,000.

There are ranges for artillery, tanks and small arms, still smelling of cordite from recent maneuvers of Indiana and Ohio National Guardsmen. Atterbury air base is there with facilities for observation and ground support planes.

Wooded hills are available for toughening the troops in simulated combat. But the barracks stand in flat and rather monotonous country. The 16,000 construction workmen who swarmed onto the site in February, 1942, cut down two hills that were in the way. Five months later troops were arriving by trainloads.

Indianapolis lies 30 miles north of the camp, with big city attractions, and its citizens proved pitiable to Atterbury trainees in the last war. Less than half as far are the smaller towns of Columbus, noted for Cummins Diesel engines, and Franklin, home of (Turn to Page Six)

Two Unions Purged By C. I. O. Board

Washington, Aug. 29—(P)—The CIO executive board today expelled the last two of 11 unions it marked for purge a year ago on charges of hewing to the Communist party line.

They were the West Coast Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union headed by Harry Bridges, and the Marine Cooks and Stewards headed by Hugh Bryson.

Bridges' union was kicked out first by a 41 to 2 vote. The dissenting votes came from J. W. Robertson, vice president of Bridges' union, and Bryson.

Next Bryson's union was ousted, 41 to 1, with Bryson casting the only opposition vote.

Bridges and Bryson could appeal the executive board action to the CIO convention in Chicago Nov. (Turn to Page Six)

Bradford Firm Awarded Contract For Construction of New Apartment Bldg.

Warren Apartments, Inc., has awarded the general contract for construction of the six-story fifty-apartment building in Market street to Arthur S. Storm of Bradford, it was learned today.

Mr. Storm is interested in obtaining sub contracts for masonry, cement and concrete work, lathing and plastering, electric wiring, plumbing and heating, roofing, sheet metal work, painting and decorating, ornamental iron work and metal stairs.

Detailed working plans and specifications are available at the office of Redding and McIntyre, real estate brokers, second floor of the Woolworth building, Liberty street, this city. The latter suggest that any interested contractors contact them in advance in order to make an appointment to study the plans.

It will be good news to residents of the community to learn that

Attacks In Two Wild Battles At Opposite Ends of Curving Front Beaten Back By Allies

Tokyo, Wednesday, Aug. 30—(P)—Allied troops beat back Red attacks in two wild battles at opposite ends of the curving Korean warfront Tuesday.

That apparently ended Communist chances of a quick end-run on Pusan, the Reds' Aug. 31 goal.

But the North Koreans were building up at the center of the line for a major stab at United Nations forces.

The bloodiest battle was on a bald hill at the southern anchor of the line. There American negroes and South Koreans turned back a North Korean bayonet charge in hand-to-hand combat. One American machinegun nest was wiped out by Red bayonets.

At the other end of the battlefront a Red force whipped behind Allied troops and cut a road three miles southwest of Pohang at the east coast anchor.

The Pohang sector still was controlled by United Nations troops. The attacking 20,000 Red troops there were pushed back around recaptured Kigye, nine miles northwest of Pohang.

While these developments took place the first contingent of British troops to reach Korea—a token force of 1,500—landed in the south.

Near the center of the line another 20,000-man Red force attacked South Korean infantrymen 18 miles north of Taegu, the rail hub.

Taegu and Pusan, principal U. N. seaports at the southeastern tip of the Korean peninsula, are the main North Korean objectives in the southeast.

An official spokesman said the Communists had lost all chance of seizing Pusan in a quick end-run thrust.

American troops approached the main area of battle around Pohang. But they had not gone into the battle. U. S. artillery ringed the shielded six miles southeast of Pohang and supported hard press— (Turn to Page Six)

GOVERNMENT SUES FOR LOSS OF SHIP

San Francisco, Aug. 29—(P)—The government charges the Luckenbach steamship with responsibility for the sinking of the Navy hospital ship Benevolence. It asked $14,000,000 damages.

A suit filed in federal district court also asked seizure of the freighter Mary Luckenbach which collided with the Benevolence Friday in dense fog off San Francisco's Golden Gate.

Benevolence casualties were 18 dead and 13 missing, with 492 saved. The freighter, its bow damaged, had no casualties.

The government asks $3,500,000 for loss of the hospital ship and $10,500,000 for hospital equipment aboard.

It charges the freighter was operated negligently.

Names Famous In English History Are Given to New Infant in Royal Family

London, Aug. 29—(P)—Princess Elizabeth's new baby was named Anne Elizabeth Alice Louise today.

The child's father, Prince Philip, entered the names—all of which are famous in the history of England's monarchy—on her birth certificate this morning at Clarence House, the royal couple's London mansion.

The two-week-old baby's proper title and name thus will be "Her Royal Highness Princess Anne Elizabeth Alice Louise of Edinburgh."

Edinburgh is the name taken by Philip when King George named him Duke of Edinburgh just before his marriage to the heiress-presumptive in November, 1947.

The baby also was given an identity card and a ration book today.

It makes their second child the namesake of one of the great reigning queens of English history, the Anne who ruled from 1702 to 1714.

The baby is likely to be known popularly as Princess Anne.

Queen Anne had many of the homely attributes which appeal to Princess Elizabeth and Philip. She was religious, generous, and her marriage was a happy one. Although she had little interest in the arts and she was frequently entangled to her disadvantage in politics, her patronage of the Church of England was such that historians have called her reign one of the most brilliant in English history.

The choice of Elizabeth is a tribute to Princess Elizabeth's mother, the present queen. It also will recall the reign of the great 18th century Queen Elizabeth, under whom Britain rose to great sea-faring and commercial might.

Over Fifty Injured In Wreck on B. & O.

Connellsville, Aug. 29—(P)—A Baltimore and Ohio passenger train gathering speed after a station stop crashed head-on into a B. & O. express near the Connellsville station yesterday, injuring 45 passengers and seven crewmen.

Passengers were thrown from their seats as the two steam locomotives collided. Railroad spokesmen said neither train was running fast. The mishap occurred just two minutes after westbound passenger train No. 21, running from Baltimore, Md., to Cleveland, Ohio, had left the Connellsville station.

Student Talks To Rotary Club About Her Trip To Paris

Miss Edith Carlin addressed the members of the Rotary Club at their luncheon meeting at the YWCA yesterday on the subject, "A Student Peeks At Paris".

"A Peek", she stated, at that fascinating French city was about all that the American students there get the opportunity to do, but went on and gave a most interesting description of the present day mode of life there.

She said that there was no shortage of food in Paris, although prices were high, and that rents were very low for homes furnished with ancient facilities. In the field of education she explained how slow the French were in getting classes started, but how well educated they eventually become.

Miss Carlin was introduced by the program chairman of the month, Harold Hampson. Other guests present at the meeting were Webster McNutt, Gerald Newton, Ellwood City; George Phillips, Santon, N. Y.; Charles R. Voigt, Concord, Mass.; and Glade Fuller, Conneautville.

The club will not hold its regular meeting next Monday because of Labor Day.

Penn'a Fighting 28th Division

By JOHN KOENIG, JR.
Harrisburg—(P)—The famed 28th Infantry Division—Pennsylvania's own—gained new honors in World War Two.

In the second global conflict, the Keystone state division acquired a new nickname, too. In World War One it was "Pershing's Iron Men." In World War Two the Germans named it the "bloody bucket division."

Beaten Germans gave this name their conquerors because of their shoulders.

The men of the 28th plunged to Germany itself and became a first invading division to enter that territory in force in near-150 years.

This followed the cracking of the resistance in Normandy and a drive through France, Belgium and Luxembourg, and the greatest feat of all—holding the Germans in the Battle of the Bulge.

The 28th Division entered federal service Feb. 17, 1941 as a strictly Pennsylvania outfit. Recruits reduced the ranks of Pennsylvanians to about 10 per cent at the end of the war.

The division formed at Indian Gap and trained hard through 1942 and 1943 with maneuvers in the Carolinas, Virginia, Louisiana, Texas and Florida.

Maj. Gen. Edward Martin commanded the outfit in its early training. Martin later became governor of Pennsylvania and now is U. S. Senator.

It sailed for Europe in October, 1943, debarking in Wales, where it spent six months. Another three months in England followed and on July 22, 1944, about six weeks after D-Day, the division landed in Normandy as part of the First Army.

From the hedgerows of the St. Lo area on until the end of the war, the 28th was in the thick of the action.

In northern France in August of 1944, the division had three commanding generals in as many days. Maj. Gen. Lloyd Brown, who succeeded Gen. Omar N. Bradley as commander in Feb. 1943, was relieved in August, 1944, by Brig. Gen. James E. Wharton.

Wharton was fatally wounded a few hours after taking command. He was replaced by Maj. Gen. Norman D. Cota, who took over on Aug. 14 and remained until the end.

When the hedgerow fighting in Normandy finally ended, village after village fell to the advancing Americans. Paris was liberated on Aug. 25 and four days later the 28th passed in review on the Champs Elysees.

Between Paris and the Belgian border, the 109th Infantry cleared the forests around Compiègne of Nazis and the 110th and 112th raced through Chantilly, Creil, Senlis and other points.

Ready now to tackle the Siegfried Line, the 28th sent patrols across the Oure river and Germany was entered at 2100 hours, Sept. 11, 1944. By Sept. 13, the entire division was inside Germany.

In December the Germans counterattacked in their last big thrust of the war.

The 28th Division was in a rest area when the powerful German offensive was launched Dec. 16, 1944.

Men of the 28th, facing east along a 25-mile front, fought and died in their positions. Nine German divisions later were identified in the force which had pounded the 28th.

Hopelessly outnumbered, the 28th fought a delaying action which enabled the Allied war machine to gain valuable time.

Cooks, clerks, the post office staff and, as Gen. Cota said later, "even my band," was in the line.

The 28th suffered severe losses but stopped the attack. A month later the division, which the Germans claimed to have "wiped out,"

Industrial Safety Under New Law Every Person On Social Conference Slated Security Entitled To Higher Benefits

An industrial safety conference for Warren and Forest county safety representatives will be held Monday evening, September 11, at 6 o'clock in the Warren YMCA.

The dinner meeting is being planned by the Bureau of Inspection of the State Department of Labor and Industry. Arrangements are in charge of Gurney R. Ball, Youngsville, state inspector for the two-county area, representatives of the Warren Foremen's Club and Nat W. Drake, secretary of the Warren Chamber of Commerce.

Speakers for the program will include William H. Chestnutt, state secretary of Labor and Industry, Harry Brainard, Pittsburgh, secretary of the Western Pennsylvania Safety Council; and Ross Leffler, assistant to the president of Carnegie Illinois Steel Corp.

was back and ready to take Colmar from the Nazis and push on to the Rhine for the final offensive. The division suffered 25,310 casualties in World War Two, 16,517 of them in battle. The casualties included 1,080 officers and 24,219 men.

In five campaigns and 14 individual battles, those killed numbered 1,976; died of wounds, 309; seriously wounded, 1,334; lightly wounded 6,184; lightly injured, 2,008; missing in action, 4,586, and captured only 96.

Engineers now are photographing missiles moving many times faster than sound and even making pictures of sound waves themselves.

When President Truman signed the 1950 amendments to the Social Security Act yesterday, every person now on social security rolls became entitled to higher benefits.

All monthly insurance checks now being paid to the 9000 workers, widows, children and dependent parents in the 3 counties administered by the Erie Field Office will be raised beginning with the September checks, according to Bernard A. Farabaugh, Manager of the Erie Office.

Farabaugh explained that these automatic increases, for September, are scheduled to reach local beneficiaries during the first week of October. Increases will range from about 50% to about 100%. For example, a retired worker whose August benefit is $40 will get about $64 for September. His wife 65, will get $32, making a total monthly payment of $96 for husband and wife. A widow with two children who had been receiving $55 a month will now receive about $110 altogether.

Farabaugh said that under the old terms of the Social Security law the 9000 beneficiaries in Erie, Crawford and Warren counties would have received about $195,000 for the month of September. Under the new increases, however, total payments for September are estimated to be about $363,000, or an immediate increase of some $168,000 monthly in insurance benefits.

A very important aspect of the new legislation is the more liberal qualifying conditions. Any individual now age 65 or more who has at least six "quarters of coverage" may be immediately eligible for monthly benefit payments. In this area there are about 300 persons over 65 with 6 or more "quarters of coverage" who may now claim benefits even though they could not qualify under the former requirements. The social security office here has been reviewing records for several weeks to screen as many as possible of these persons and will send letters notifying them that benefits may now be payable if the claim is renewed.

Farabaugh estimated that the Erie area would have approximately the following numbers of newly covered workers under social security: 18,000 self-employed persons; 2,400 farm workers; 2,700 household workers in private homes. Coverage will begin on January 1, 1951 for these groups. Household workers, which include maids, cooks, baby sitters, etc., will not be covered unless they work 24 days or more for the same employer and are paid cash wages of $50.00 or more per calendar quarter. Farm workers must work "regularly". In general, they will not be covered unless they work five months or longer for the same farm operator. This bars seasonal farm workers and harvesters.

Employees of non-profit institutions and of State and local governments may be covered if the institution or State chooses. Still excepted from social security coverage are farm operators, ministers and members of religious orders, doctors, attorneys and certain other self-employed professional people.

A new type of payment is mothers' insurance benefits. These are monthly payments to a mother who has in her care a child entitled to monthly insurance benefits. Separation or divorce from the wage earner does not prevent the mother's receipt of monthly benefits, provided the wage earner was furnishing the greater part of her support. This changes the former law which did not permit payment

GARLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Norman have left for their home in Palmer, Mass., following a visit with relatives. Later they will leave for Winter Park, Fla.

A sale of a large number of cattle attracted crowds on Saturday to the Moore estate. The dairy is changing hands.

Garland's oldest resident, Peter Carlson who will be 91 on September 1 was delighted to see his picture in the Times-Mirror although to wives who were divorced, and did not permit payment to the wife of a retired wage earner until she reached age 65. It also has children under 18, she may receive benefits when her husband retires, even if she is under 65.

The amount of the benefit paid to dependent parents in cases where the parent was dependent on a deceased worker and where no widow or child can be entitled to benefits was raised from half the worker's benefit to three-fourths. The monthly benefit for the first child, in the case of a deceased wage earner, was also raised from half to three-fourths of the worker's benefit.

Employee and employer will each pay 1 1/2% of payroll until 1954, 2% until the end of 1959, 2 1/2% until the end of 1964, 3% until the end of 1969, and 3 1/4% thereafter. Beginning in 1951 the first $3,600 of wages in a year will be taxed. This represents an increase from the $3,000 wage base which has been in effect since 1937.

Self-employed people, who are in effect both employee and employer, will pay 2 1/4% until 1954, 3% until the end of 1959, 3 1/2% until the end of 1964, 4 1/2% until the end of 1969, and 4 7/8% thereafter, on the first $3,600 of net self-employment income per year.

The new law gives wage credit of $160 per month toward old-age and survivors benefits for military service in World War II. These wages are to be used in computing monthly benefits payable on the basis of veterans' wage records after 1949, whether the veteran died in service or after discharge, and regardless of whether pension or compensation is paid by the Veterans Administration.

NO...YOU'RE NOT HOARDING

... when you buy perishable fruits, vegetables, poultry, meats and fish in season to store for the future needs of your family. It's good sense . . . good sound economy. You buy these foods when they're in season, available in quantity and priced low. They are then frozen, safely stored in your home freezer or in your community frozen food locker plant to be served on your table months later, fresh, full of flavor and with all their original goodness and food value.

Why freeze foods?

Freezing is superior to all other methods of food preservation because frozen foods are almost identical with fresh foods in appearance, flavor and food values. The nutrition value of proteins, fats, carbohydrates and minerals is changed but little during the freezing process. Vitamins are retained to a much greater degree than in any other food storage method.

You have fresh foods the year around. There are no periods of feast or famine — no periods when high, out of season prices prevent you from serving foods you and your family enjoy. You can serve foods the "June in January" to your table.

Virtually all kinds of foods may be frozen, even cooked foods such as cake, bread, spaghetti, creamed chicken, baked beans, etc. Preparation of foods for freezing is easy. And frozen foods cook more quickly than fresh foods. Visit your electric home freezer dealer and the frozen food locker plant in your community. Learn all the facts about frozen foods and then begin to serve your family food that's fit for a king — the year 'round.

We're Sorry . . .

SORRY THAT RESTRICTIONS ON GAS HEATING MUST AGAIN BE IMPOSED BY THE MANUFACTURERS LIGHT AND HEAT COMPANY

In planning in advance for the 1950-51 heating season, The Manufacturers Light & Heat Company estimated that 17,000 additional furnaces and burners would be connected to the Company lines during 1950. This sizable increase was possible because, working as fast as we could during the past year, we added $13,510,000 worth of transmission and distribution lines . . . compressor stations . . . gas storage fields, and we have a construction program for 1951 requiring approximately $11,120,000 for still further improvement.

IT'S A LONG-RANGE JOB

With only a few months of the year remaining, we now have approved just about all of the 17,000 additional installations that these new facilities make possible. We can't approve more than this number at this time because our available gas supplies are determined by long-range planning, engineering, and budgeting—and by contracts for delivery of more gas from the Southwest. Obviously, it is impossible to accomplish, in the short time before the heating season arrives, all that would be required to serve a greater number of heating customers than we anticipated.

We sincerely regret that we must take this step. But you will understand that in all fairness to customers already being served—as much as we regret the action—restriction is the only answer.

Therefore, in accordance with this Company's Rules and Regulations on file with the Public Service Commission, we will not approve any new gas heating installations except in cases of extreme hardship or in cases of new housing now under construction which is specifically designed for gas heating.

All applications for gas heating received will be filed in the order in which they are received. They will be approved in that order when conditions permit.

FUTURE DIFFICULTIES IN KOREA

Military victory in Korea won't end our problems there, in the opinion of Bruce Bissat, NEA Service editorial writer. He thinks it will merely give us new ones, in the political and economic sphere. Even though triumph in the field may be many months away we ought to waste no time in sketching out plans to meet coming problems.

A look at Korea's economic condition is enough to make clear the size of our future difficulties there. Korea is a land where 21,000,000 people normally live close to starvation. Poverty is the rule, even without war.

But note what two months of war have done: Hundreds of villages have been leveled by fire and shell. Hundreds of thousands of farmers have been driven from their fields. Industrial plants have been bombed and looted. Transportation has been smashed. Except in the American-held sectors almost every bridge south of the 38th parallel has been knocked out.

With winter coming on, every coal mine is in enemy hands. When the mines are recovered they will undoubtedly be found stripped of their machinery. Virtually no wood is available for fuel (or for housing). Koreans are fishermen as well as farmers—great numbers of their fishing boats have sunk. Oil tanks, warehouses, dock facilities and many other installations are gone.

We are in Korea to rescue the people from Soviet-inspired aggression. But reports indicate they nevertheless hold us responsible for the war damage and look to us to make it good when the conflict is over. This may sound ungrateful, but it's eminently practical.

Furthermore, there's precedent for such an attitude. At the end of World War II we put out more than $3 billion to rehabilitate the Philippines. Most of the damage had been done by U. S. forces in freeing the islands from Japanese control.

From Tokyo come signs we already are recognizing the magnitude of the Korean economic problems. ECA officials plan to ship thousands of tons of cereals to Korea in the next few months. They're requesting preliminary surveys of immediate relief needs. Informed guesses are that $200 million will be needed to meet pressing needs between now and next July. About $7,500,000 has been set aside to provide for spring rice planting.

Americans may feel like complaining—"Just another area for us to support. Aren't we doing enough for the world as it is?" Of course it's painful, this vast job of helping countries all over the world. But these are the burdens imposed by war and the threat of war.

Had there never been a World War II, the world would not have been so impoverished and prostrated as it has become in vast areas. Thus it would not be so ready a prey of communism. Anyone who has a realistic plan for averting these burdens undoubtedly would be welcomed in Washington's highest quarters. But in Korea as elsewhere there probably is none.

We can't save the Koreans from Soviet domination only to leave them a country in ruins. They must be given the substance out of which to build a future in freedom.

WHAT'S IN IT FOR ME—AND YOU

In case you've ever wondered what went into so-called French salad dressings, here's some information: After Nov. 12, Federal Food and Drug standards will be enforced on the salad dressing industry. French dressings will have to have at least 35 per cent vegetable oil. No mineral oils will be allowed. Flavoring of salt, sugar, syrup or honey will be permitted, but no coloring agent which imitates egg yolk. Tomato paste, catsup or sherry wine are optional. Citric acid must be limited to one-fourth of the acetic acid in vinegar, lemon or lime juice used. French dressing may be emulsified (thickened) by not more than three-fourths of one per cent by weight of gum arabic, guar gum, extract of Irish moss, propylene glycol ester of alginic acid or sodium carbomethyl-cellulose.

There was a great to-do down in Houston, Tex., when a pretty young elevator operator at City Hall complained that a middle-aged City Councilman kissed her while he was riding in her elevator. The furor seems to have been caused by the fact he was not campaigning for office at the time.

Good news appears in today's issue regarding plans for the construction of the new six-story fifty apartment building to be erected by Warren Apartments, Inc., in Market street. The general contractor, Arthur S. Storm, of Bradford, announces he will keep all the payroll possible in the community, which will be an added boost to the business of the area at a time when several other large projects are being completed.

Our Changing World

Here And There

Dr. Wilbert Imbrie, representative of the Dental Bureau of the Department of Health, was a visitor in the office Monday afternoon and during his stay, informed us that the United States sodium fluoride team is scheduled to begin work in the junior high school in Warren, September 13th. Sodium fluoride if properly administered will prevent about from forty to fifty per cent of tooth decay. The team expects to be here three weeks and in that time will treat about 400 children. Ships will be sent through the pupils to parents for consent, and then returned to the school. Dr. Imbrie states that the Bureau has many applications from various sections for this project, and this community is to be congratulated in being selected as one of the points in which the team will work. Considering that there are 67 counties in the state, along with the fact that the team coming here has been working in Pennsylvania for two years, and this is the last year that the service is available from this source, it would seem that Warren is indeed fortunate. Dr. Imbrie, a surprisingly active official considering the fact that he is a veteran in state employment service, having served eight years in the Assembly from Butler county, has a district that covers the counties of Warren, McKean, Elk, Cameron, Potter, Tioga, Bradford, Lycoming and Sullivan.

This and That: Over 150,000 attended the 24 concerts played by the Chautauqua Symphony orchestra, which completed its 22nd Wednesday evening program last week with the American debut of Polish pianist Marjan Filer. Franco Aurini, musical director and conductor and associate conductor of the New York Philharmonic - Symphony orchestra in the winter, completed his seventh season with the Chautauqua orchestra. He flew to London Friday from New York with his wife, the Polish pianist Ligia Berezynska, to make first recordings with the new London Symphony orchestra of several works of the late Hungarian composer Bela Bartok. State College officials are not expecting the drafting of young men for military service to take large numbers of students during the next year. Dr. C. O. Williams, acting dean, points out that the majority of men who would be admitted in September as freshmen will either be under the induction age of 19 or just turned 19. The first men to be called are in their twenties. A resident of Titusville reports seeing a ball of fire in the northeastern sky about 10:35 Sunday evening. She says the flame colored ball appeared to go north from the moon, disappearing about four yards from the moon, as distance appears from the ground. No other reports of the phenomena have been received. Sunday was being observed as Ab Zahner Day when the Warren Merchants defeated Black Ash on the latter's home field. Following the game the third sacker was presented with a purse of more than $100, donated by the fans as a going-away present. Ab left for the Army today. A letter to Corry officials from the U. S. Census Department states the final tabulation places that city's population at 7,572 persons. Arrangements are rapidly being completed for the Spartansburg Community Fair to be held September 14-15-16. A number of pastors of Warren churches who have been vacationing through the month of August will be returning this week, to resume activities the first of the month.

Helped by 'Influence Peddlers' Promoters Can Build Fortunes

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—"Five Percenters" and "Influence Peddlers" who try to obtain special consideration for their clients through government contracts resort to many ingenious and devious practices.

One angle recently attempted was an effort to get a defense contract for a certain company on the grounds that it would help relieve unemployment in a distress area.

Last February there were 43 "E" areas in which unemployment was more than 12 per cent. Today there are only 22, and the next monthly report will show even fewer.

A typical effort to take advantage of this situation, however, has been described somewhat as follows:

A group of promoters, eager to get in on some of the government's expanded buying for national defense, located an idle plant in a distress area. An offer to buy or lease the plant, contingent on receipt of a government contract, was then negotiated with the owner.

A brochure was then prepared, describing all these lovely manufacturing facilities and telling how big an idle labor force was available in the area. Copies were sent to the White House, the Chiefs of Staff, and government procurement offices. Also to known Five Percenters in Washington.

At this stage the promoters had nothing to sell. They had no particular experience in manufacturing. They were merely looking for something to make which they could sell to the government.

It is the job of the Five Percenters—the commission agent middleman who knows what the government wants to buy—to be responsible for finding the promoters a product to make and a contract on which to bid.

NEW companies entering this field are often at a disadvantage. Filling a first order involves high costs. Established competitors are always in a position to make lower bids. So the promoters and their Washington agent try to have their business put in a special category.

The government's main protection, and the thing that has prevented many high-cost government contracts being made for the relief of small business or unemployment in a particular area is a firm ruling by Comptroller General Lindsay C. Warren. He has held that all contracts must be let to the lowest bidder, where competitive bidding is called for. In this he is fully supported by law.

The competitive bid contract is the fairest and best, from the taxpayers' standpoint. But the government does also make "negotiated contracts" and give "educational orders."

Educational orders are placed when one of the armed services for instance, wants to have some factory prepared to go into mass production of a particular product, if and when needed.

Negotiated contracts are made for secret materials. The entire $750,000,000 stockpiling program is done on a negotiated basis. Any would-be seller to the government who can get a contract removed from the competitive bid field and put into either of the other classifications can naturally expect to get a higher price. And that's where the Influence Peddlers and special fixers with a political pull try to do business.

There is no squawk against the Five Percenter who collects his commission for legitimate brokerage. It is only when he goes into the political pressure field that his operations become shady. When some old, established firm in some line finds that the prospect for a piece of business disappears in a negotiated contract, its Washington representatives go nuts, though there isn't anything much they can do about it.

Morning Roundup: Good news comes from all important highway projects that have been under way in the county during the summer, almost isolating the borough because of detours. Today we learned that the detour signs have been removed on the road between Chandlers Valley and Sugar Grove, although the contractor has much work to do on the bents. Traffic has been using stretches both east and west of Warren for some time, although the highway work is far from completed. This will be good news to many motorists planning trips over the coming holiday. Heaved-up sidewalks and highways, that usually follow a cold winter, soon may be a thing of the past. Engineers have developed a process which halts the destructive effects of frost on concrete. The process involves injecting tiny air bubbles into the liquid concrete.

Cathleen L. Smith and Leo M. Rossey Married Saturday at St. Paul's Church

St. Paul's Lutheran church was the scene of a lovely summer wedding on Saturday, August 26, when Miss Cathleen L. Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Smith, 417 Chestnut street, and Leo M. Rossey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oren Rossey, 8 South Marion street, were united in marriage. The double ring ceremony is performed before an altar decorated with gladioli, white lilies and palms by the Rev. Dr. Gustafson at 5:30 o'clock. Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Carl Jacobson played the following selections on the organ, "O Lord Most Holy," "Romance," "The Prayer Perfect," "My Heart Thy Sweet Voice," "Salut D'mour," and "Because." Elmer Room, Jr., sang "Bless This House" and "Hold Thou My Hand Lord" and during the service sang "The Lord's Prayer." Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride was a beautiful picture in her wedding gown of candlelight ivory nylon tulle. The dress was styled with a basque bodice emphasized by a stricken neckline, long sleeves ending in points over the wrists and a full bell like skirt trimmed with a double row of ruffled tulle lace, which ended in a chapel style wide train. Her veil imported French illusion fell from a sweetheart brim trimmed with lilies of the valley. Her bridal bouquet was of white roses with matching ribbon and streamers. The bride's only jewelry was a pearl necklace and earrings, gift of the bridegroom. Mrs. Betty Pearson was her sister's matron of honor. She wore green swiss organdy dress with basque bodice and sweetheart neckline. A picture hat, gauntlets and a bouquet of pink roses, completed a pretty costume. Her bridesmaid, another sister, Miss Katherine Smith, wore a similar costume in pastel orchid and carried yellow roses. Little Renee Rossey, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She was dressed in a princess style yellow swiss organdy and wore a head dress of white net. She carried a white miniature basket of yellow daisies and orchid sweet peas. Groomsmen were Carl Rossey, Wealeville, best man for his brother, and two other brothers, Chester and Arthur Rossey, ushers. The bride's mother chose a navy blue crepe with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Rossey also wore navy with matching accessories and yellow roses. Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the class rooms of the church. The buffet table was centered with a beautiful four tiered wedding cake topped with miniature bride figures. The cake was made and served by Mrs. Leona Carlson. The bride's table was decorated with flowers and candles, and Lula and Arlene Rossey, sisters of the bridegroom, poured. After the refreshments were served, the couple opened their many lovely gifts. For traveling the bride chose a beige crepe dress with green accessories and a red rose corsage. They will be at home at 415 Chestnut street after September 2, when they return from Washington, D. C. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Parker, Morris; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dobson and daughter, Viola, Clarington; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rossey, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Erickson, Wesleyville; Chester Rossey, Erie; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kent, Mr. and Mrs. Erick Vicklund, Jamestown; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rossey, Franklin; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Amey, Allentown; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Skinnell, Mrs. William Weaverly, Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell, Russell, and carried yellow roses. Donald Garvey was best man for his brother. Mrs. Anderson chose navy blue for her daughter's wedding. She had a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Garvey wore a navy print with a red rose corsage. Immediately following the ceremony, a reception for fifty guests was held at the home of the bride. A lovely buffet supper was served by Mrs. Anderson, and the three tiered cake centering the table was cut by Miss Evelyn Hamblin. After a Canadian wedding trip, the couple will reside in Jamestown, N. Y., where Mr. Garvey is employed. For traveling, Mrs. Garvey chose a dusty rose ensemble with black accessories. A prenuptial shower was given for the bride by Mrs. Mary Nelson. Every quart of skim milk contains about half an ounce of casein, a substance with many uses from making textile fiber to cement and paint.

Anderson - Garvey Nuptial Saturday At Grace Church

Y. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. W. Baldwin, pastor of the Grace Methodist church. The bride was lovely in navy blue marquisette over satin with matching accessories and a corsage of white rose buds and baby pom poms. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls, gift of the bridegroom. She was attended by Miss Eleanor Reig, who wore a navy print with navy accessories

Attacks in Two Wild Battles Beaten Back by Allies

ed South Koreans. The Pohang sector battle was developing into a see-saw action. While one force of Reds was pushing southward another was forced back by the South Korean capital division. It moved north more than a mile and retook Kigye.

Kigye itself is not important, but the complex of roads around it leads west to Taegu, which draws much of its supplies through Pohang port.

A U. S. 8th Army communique said the Reds controlled the hills around Kigye and had blocked one highway southwest of Pohang.

A spokesman for General MacArthur warned that the east coast still offers the possibility for a major breach in the United Nations wall, which 40,000 to 60,000 Reds have been probing for a soft spot for days.

While these frontline battles raged, British infantrymen stepped ashore from the aircraft carrier Unicorn and the Cruiser Ceylon. Bagpipes skirled as units of the Argyll and Sutherland and Middlesex regiments landed—the first of many promised United Nations ground troops to aid the American and South Korean forces.

The 1,500 British soldiers disembarked clad in jungle greens, with part of their own "battle equipment and, as a Scottish officer said: "ready to go."

Franklin College. The biggest beef probably will be the lack of housing for soldiers' children. A survey of eight cities and towns in the area, made by the interaction committee for Camp Atterbury, showed that 80 percent of the available houses, apartments and rooms are for adults only. Ninety percent of the Pennsylvanians who already have applied for housing have reported they have children.

The camp was named for W. W. Atterbury, who was president of the Pennsylvania Railroad and director of transportation for the AEF in World War One.

AFTER FIVE YEARS

A racing pigeon, owned by Harry Whitehill of Oil City, which was flown in a 200-mile race during the fall of 1945 and lost enroute from Columbus, O., came home Sunday after a five year absence. Mr. Whitehill, one of Oil City's three members of the Venango Homing Pigeon club, has been a member of the club for the past six years and has about 63 birds in his loft. On Sunday he noticed an extra pigeon in the group. He picked the bird up, saw the number on the band attached to its leg and discovered it to be the pigeon he had lost five years ago. It is unusual for a bird to be missing for that long a time, Mr. Whitehill said. It was in good shape however, and may have got in someone else's loft since its 1945 trip west.

THE MARKETS

New York, Aug. 29—(AP)—Buying enthusiasm gave the stock market a quick lift today. An early upsurge put prices ahead by a few cents to more than a dollar a share, and they held to that level in later trading despite a slackening in the business pace. Steels and motors stepped to the forefront with fractional gains and gave the signal for the rest of the market to carry on. Ralls, chemicals and an assortment of specialized issues showed some advances going beyond a dollar a share.

Erie, Aug. 29—(AP)—A $200,000 fire swept the four-story main building of Gunnison Brothers tannery early today at nearby Girard. Firemen from nine volunteer companies with the help of a steady rain battled for hours to keep the flames from spreading to other buildings.

S. Boyd Gunnison, president of the firm, estimated loss at $200,000. The main building was heavily stocked with leather. Gunnison theorized the fire was touched off by a short circuit in the motor of a drying machine.

30,000 TO MARCH IN CHICAGO VFW PARADE

Chicago, Aug. 29—(AP)—The Veterans of Foreign Wars took time out today from their serious debate on Communism, the Korean War and Gen. MacArthur to stage a giant military parade.

Some 30,000 marchers were to assemble on the near north side and march in Michigan avenue past the reviewing stand at the Congress Street plaza. The parade is one of the big features of the VFW's national encampment.

Before the parade, however, the delegates were to be addressed by Marc Leva, assistant secretary of defense, as a representative of his superior, Louis Johnson. The delegates are scheduled to vote tomorrow on a resolution asking for the ouster of Johnson.

The committee on national security and foreign affairs, which has prepared the resolution calling for Johnson's removal, also is preparing a resolution recommending that President Truman discharge Secretary of State Acheson.

Bombers Cop Tight Battle At Ludlow

Jamestown Bombers shaded the Ludlow Wildcats, 1-0, at Ludlow Sunday in a game in which there were only three hits.

It was an air-tight game all the way, with Walt Brown handling the chugging for the Bombers and Bob Johnson, big right-hander who pitched a no-hit game last week, on the mound for the Cats. Johnson allowed the visitors one hit, a single. Brown grudgingly gave up 2 hit to Ludlow, but didn't allow a single Ludlow man to reach second base.

The Bombers were retired in 1-2-3 fashion for the first three innings. Then in the fourth, Jim Rodgers singled to right center. Bob Bender bunted down the third base line, but the relay to first was wide, allowing both runners to advance a notch. Dankovich then lifted a high fly to center, with Rodgers scoring just a fraction of a second ahead of the throw to the plate.

Ludlow is scheduled to play Black Ash at Ludlow on Labor Day.

Spouts Win 1950 Championship Of Hot Stove Midget Circuit

The Spouts, Eighth Ward team sponsored by the West Penn Oil Co., reign today as 1950 champions of the Hot Stove Midget Baseball League.

The East Siders won the crown last night by downing the Sons of Italy, lower Fourth Ward squad. In the third game of a best out of three playoff series between the Eastern and Western Division winners.

Final score favored the Spouts, 11 to 7. Chief Bennett went all the way on the mound for the victors, while John Mazzuca was on the hill for the Sons of Italy.

Several hundred people were on hand at Jackson field to watch the battle.

Earlier in the series, the Spouts had beaten the Sons of Italy, 4-1, but the West Siders came back to take the second game, 8-6, and even the count.

Last night's scrap was an exciting affair that had the crowd on edge until the final out.

Spouts opened with one run in the first frame, but the Sons of Italy came back in the same stanza with two runs. They added another in the second to make it 3-1. Then the Spouts punched across two markers in the third inning to knot the count, 3-3, and make it a new ball game.

Spouts iced the game in the final two frames with five and three run spurges, while the Sons of Italy could count only two runs in each of those innings.

Bennett, Spouts hurler, fanned six batters, walked four, and gave up 10 hits, while Mazzuca whiffed nine batters, walked two and yielded 12 safeties.

Bennett also aided his own cause by clotting a home run in the third frame with none on, and his team mate, Shattuck, also poled a round tripper in the sixth, with none on. Griffin, Spouts shortstop, had three hits in four chances, while Castagnino, Sons of Italy mighty mite, hit safely in three tries out of four.

Delightful Camp For Lutheran Boys Comes to a Close

Sunday afternoon marked the closing of the Lutheran Boys' Camp on the Grandville Road. The boys had enjoyed the ten days with almost perfect weather and were not a bit anxious to go home.

Pastor Allison conducted church school for the boys Sunday morning. Packing for the trip home consumed much of the morning and was followed by a hearty dinner. Parents began calling for the boys about the middle of the afternoon.

The various sports contests between the different units were completed Saturday morning with the Tael unit winning in baseball, volleyball and basketball. A swimming meet was won by Wittenberg. The best record in the daily inspection of quarters was won by Carthage. The staff defeated the campers at baseball on Saturday.

Chuck Doolittle, from Bethesda Children's home near Meadville, was voted the best camper by the boys.

Director Ken Greenlund was quite pleased with the general attitude of the boys during the camp. Almost all of them completed the requirements to win the Camp "L".

New Inducement Is Offered Recruits In U. S. Air Force

Something new has been added to the United States Air Force.

That "something new" is co-education, which means that for the first time in history, women are earning officer commissions on the same basis as men at the United States Air Force Officer Candidate School at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

To be eligible for entrance to OCS, the WAFs must possess the same qualifications required of men. They must be at least 20½ and not over 26½ years of age and have at least two years of college or pass an equivalent examination. They must be of high moral character, citizens of the United States and they must agree to serve at least three years upon completion of the course of training.

Candidates are not required to have prior military service. In addition to their pay, officer candidates are provided with their meals, clothing, living quarters and athletic and recreational facilities. They study a variety of subjects designed to make them well-rounded leaders. WAF students do not, however, participate in the field maneuvers scheduled for the men.

When students are graduated in six months, they receive commissions as second lieutenants in the Reserve and during their three years of active duty have an opportunity to earn a Regular Air Force commission. They are also eligible to attend specialist schools open to officers of the Air Force.

For those possessing the qualifications and ambition, Air Force Candidate School offers one of the best opportunities for advancement and training open to young men and women today.

Your local recruiting sergeant can get you started on your way to this new co-ed school of the United States Air Force. Why not see him first thing in the morning at the local U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station located at the Post Office in Warren.

Large Number New Customers Being Served by Penelec

Electric service was made available for the first time to 2,800 customers in rural areas served by the Pennsylvania Electric Company during the past two months, according to J. P. Fenstermacher, district manager for Penelec.

To provide service for these customers Penelec constructed 150 miles of line, the district manager revealed.

During the first seven months of the current year, service was extended to 1,239 customers by the addition of 70 miles of line.

So far this year, 88 new rural customers have been added in the Northern division which includes the local area.

On July 31 Penelec had on file 1,141 applications for rural service. It is estimated that 172 miles of line will be required to provide service to these applicants.

By HAL BOYLE

Korea—(P)—It takes more than a war in Korea to make the American soldier give up the habits of home.

In a strange land of strange customs he tries in small ways to live the way he always has. Sometimes this effort is ludicrous. Sometimes it is sad. But always it is stubborn. For even on a battlefield the Yank insists on making his life as normal as he can.

So far I haven't heard any soldier say he was over here fighting for his children's right to eat good old grandma's good old blueberry pie—or to protect his favorite brand of toothpaste from Communist infiltration. But the Army hasn't made the mistake it did in the early part of the Second World War—that of fostering off on the combat troops unknown brands of cigarettes and chewing gum.

The infantry then raised a fair and proper howl over that. The doughboys thought it only reasonable that if they had to suffer in foreign territory they should enjoy familiar cigarettes—and let the civilians who were enjoying the familiar landmarks of home suffer the unfamiliar cigarettes.

And the glory of the folks at home was that most agreed with them. But war is war and the quartermaster corps isn't quite as efficient or as well stocked as the corner drugstore.

As late as the day Hitler did himself in a GI in Germany could still open a K combat ration and still pull out a packet of four cigarettes that were not merely as unknown to him as the meaning of a German verb. They sometimes were as moudy as a grocery bill in original sanskrit.

But that hasn't happened in Korea to my knowledge. The soldiers here might not be issued every day a pack of their favorite smokes. But it is sure to be one of the better known brands.

It is the same with chewing gum, shaving cream, candy and toilet articles. Wherever the Army or Air Force post exchanges have these articles in stock, they are usually familiar, popular, advertised brands. This is even true of snuff and razor blades. You would be surprised how many middle-aged sergeants in this still largely professional army use snuff.

And most soldiers remember the mysterious razor blades of the last war that would nick a pimple but wouldn't cut a beard except under pressure that also removed the top layer of a man's face. The razor blades sold or given to the troops now have to cut. They are guaranteed to take off whiskers—and they have been guaranteed for years.

They aren't made by fly-by-night concerns that grabbed a quick army contract and reaped a quick profit knowing they wouldn't be in business in postwar years.

This preference of the Army to buy name products is a real morale factor. It may be possible only because this is yet a small war. It does penalize the new and often enterprising manufacturer who may have an even better product to offer. But it makes the soldier feel good to know that he can get the things he used at home. It makes him feel that he is still thought of as important as the civilian whose standards he is protecting.

There is one type of soldier, however, who is being discriminated against. That is the cigar smoker. The Army isn't taking care of him. I know because I am a cigar man myself. A real cigar man would almost rather attack a machinegun nest than smoke a cigarette in compromise.

It was that way in the last war and it is that way in this one. We treasure cigars and pass them around almost as tenderly as if they were letters from home.

General Grant had cigars in the Civil War. Why can't we catch up to his supply line in this war?

It has been estimated that erosion destroys the equivalent of half a million acres of U. S. farm land every year.

THE SCOREBOARD
Older Hurlers 'Dying on Cards' While Young Pitchers Move On

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—While Sam Breadon and Branch Rickey formed their highly successful partnership in St. Louis, there is a saying, "They never die on the Cardinals."

Rickey peddled them at the first sign that they had outlived usefulness.

The Cards have gotten away from the basic principle that Breadon and Rickey rich and brought nine pennants in 24 years. Further proof of this was the trading of Ken Johnson to the Phils and the Giants obtaining Jim Hearn for the waiver price of $10.

Eddie Dyer can't be criticized for working veteran dependant ahead of promise. The manager's job is to win.

But anyone remotely acquainted with Rickey will tell you he has seen that the 27-year-old Johnson and the 28-year-old Hearn have every opportunity in the year they were sent away.

This would be especially true with four 35-year-olds on the left-handed Brecheen, Lanier and Brazle, and the right-handed Martin. Not to mention the 34-year-old relief worker, Ted Wilk.

Rickey would have much preferred to take a chance with Hearn and Johnson and collect a chunk for a couple of the older blo.

Dyer was desperately in need of a right-hand hitting outfielder Johnson went for Johnny Blatnik, now with Houston, and young Carpenter had another Whiz Kid in Philadelphia.

Eddie Sawyer had liked Johnson in the International League. Hearn, who drew rave notices in his freshman year, 1947, immediately stabilized the Giants' pitching staff.

It is difficult to believe that this kind of a pitcher would be a waiver list.

The Georgia Tech alumnus turned in three shutouts and four hit games in his first half dozen starts.

The Phillies and Giants believe they have future 20-game winners in Johnson and Hearn.

In New York, they're calling Jim Hearn the greatest claim to Stymie.

And with the Phillies, Ken Johnson looks more like a purpose-scouted, hand-picked, tailor-made Whiz Kid than some of the phenomenal Whiz Kids themselves.
